VOLUNTEERS BEGIN $4000 RED CROSS DRIVE

LOCAL RESIDENTS TO LEAD APPEAL FOR RED CROSS FUNDS IN CAMPBELL

The 1951 Red Cross fund appeal got underway in Campbell yesterday, as many local residents, including a substantial number of Parent-Teacher Association members, began the door-to-door canvass to raise $4000 in this area.

In addition to the many workers listed in earlier reports of drive plans by Chairman Joseph Feit, the Cambrian district has added the following to its roster of workers, headed by Mrs. J. D. Edgmon, Red Cross chairman of the Cambrian Home and School Club: Mesdames Frank Blair, Edward Carman, Joseph Keesling, J. Mathewson, E. A. Decker, Henry Jewell, L. W. Critchlow, G. M. Youngman, A. C. Meyer, Herbert Gilbert, Arthur Bowman, A. Hodos, Kenneth Allen, George Petrea, Fred Luring, Vernon Cross and Thomas Hiatt.

The work of fully organizing the entire Campbell chapter area has reached its final stages, said Feit. To date the splendid and willing cooperation of the Campbell area has been most gratifying and I'm sure the reception to be given these workers by the populace will likewise be cordial and encouraging.

Other individuals who volunteered their services in the Campbell area are Mrs. Henry Blohm, Mrs. Lois Hill, Mrs. Bertha Jones, Mrs. Robert McCloskey, Mrs. Hannah Blunt, Mrs. Wilbur Brandon, Mrs. Howard Brown, Mrs. A. W. Middleton, Mr. Larry Newberry and Mr. Lew Winkler.

The American Red Cross is active in many fields and, although Red Cross workers are concentrating these days on national defense projects, there has been no lessening of their continued efforts to help war veterans and their families.

SERVICE TO VETERANS

For today's more than 19,000,000 living veterans, hundreds of thousands of whom are disabled to some degree, the Red Cross has a three point program which includes:

1—Home Service workers in 3,738 Red Cross chapters to provide counseling in personal and family problems, to help with preparation of claims for government benefits, and to give financial assistance.

2—A staff of over 200 field directors stationed in some 80 Veterans Administration offices to assist chapters in the processing of disability and other types of claims, and to personally represent veterans in presenting claims or appeals to the Veterans Administration.

3—Women field directors and Volunteer Service workers located in approximately 140 Veterans Administration hospitals with some 100,000 patients to coordinate the efforts of thousands of trained volunteers in helping with medical, recreation and welfare programs considered essential to recovery.

A major part of Red Cross work in the nation's civil defense program will be to help provide food, clothing and shelter during the immediate period of an emergency. This aid will be in addition to the traditional Red Cross service to victims of natural catastrophies.

Principal work done by the Red Cross for civil defense thus far has been to conduct surveys on shelter and feeding facilities. The biggest survey was the one carried out in the Chicago area last summer by 47 Red Cross chapters.

The added duties for civil defense came after a year in which Red Cross Disaster Service, in its normal operation, conducted a record number of 294 disaster relief operations, giving aid to 223,400 persons. A survey of Red Cross disaster relief operations for the previous 30 years showed that during the period approximately $134,000,000 was spent and more than 4,000 relief operations were conducted in 48 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska.

The governor of California-Nevada-Hawaii District 12 will pay his visit to this division on March 31, with the Santa Cruz club serving as host group for the occasion.

WEST VALLEY HOSPITAL BOARD PLANS $500,000 IN BONDS FOR CONSTRUCTION

West Valley Hospital District is laying plans for a half million dollar bond issue to finance construction of the proposed hospital on district owned property at Vasona, Herbert M. Shadle, board chairman and Campbell representative, announced this week following a meeting of the board in Los Gatos.

Shadle said the date for the bond issue has not been set, and that "we probably will not try for the issue until 1952, even though we feel it is extremely important. There are too many bond issues being presented now," he explained.

Meanwhile, the board has applied for $31,150 in federal funds for architects and planning fees necessary to prepare preliminary steps toward the bond issue.

Although total cost of construction is estimated at $587,929, the board has planned the bond issue for only $500,000, since part of the balance has already been raised through tax levies in the tri-community area of the district. West Valley Hospital District is comprised of the communities of Saratoga, Campbell and Los Gatos.

Asked if he believes the board will discover any heavy or concerted opposition to the bond issue proposal, Shadle indicated that he does not. "Both Saratoga and Los Gatos appear to be very much for it," he stated, "and, though we have not made any group sampling of opinion in Campbell, we think Campbell will go along too."

Organizations in both Los Gatos and Saratoga were asked to take a vote on the bond issue plan, and results were overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal. In Saratoga, where the original proposal to form the district was turned down, the bond issue proposal has received almost unanimous support, Shadle added.

The board chairman added that representatives of various hospital districts, meeting February 21 in Paso Robles, had agreed to seek amendment to federal hospital fund aid policies. It was intended that the original hospital aid measure would provide assistance to rural centers, he explained, yet the West Valley Hospital District, as well as other rural districts have been denied funds, while urban hospitals have been given support. O'Connor Hospital and San Jose Hospitals, both privately operated and located in the San Jose urban area, have been granted federal fund support contrary to original intention of the measure, he stated.

Hospital district representatives agreed to send resolutions from their districts to the U. S. Congress asking for amendment of the act to give support to rural rather than urban area hospital districts. It is to the interest of national defense that construction of hospitals away from large population centers be encouraged, Shadle said. In the event of air attack, hospitals in the larger cities would be endangered, necessitating adequate facilities in the rural areas.

Maselli, who came to this country from his native Italy when he was a young boy, has had a lifetime of experience in tailoring of suits for men and women. He will specialize in made-to-measure tailored clothing for men and women, and will also do remodeling, repairing and alteration work.

Samples of suiting for spring wear have been ordered by Maselli and these should arrive by mid-March, he said. Local residents who are seeking a comfortable, individually styled suit at reasonable price are invited to drop around and see the new samples when they arrive.

Benson Campbell Cleaners Observes 13th Anniversary

Benson's Campbell Cleaners celebrated its thirteenth anniversary this month, its present modern, up-to-date plant a far cry from the first year when the shop contained only the bare essentials of equipment and its cash register was a late model cigar box.

Benson's, owned and operated by Lowell Benson, opened on February 18, 1938, the same day the World's Fair opened on Treasure Island, at San Francisco. The equipment consisted of a small boiler, $25; one press, $75, a hand iron and a used sewing machine. With $35 the Bensons purchased a supply of knotty pine lumber from the Campbell Lumber Company to make the clothes racks, counter and partitions between the shop and living quarters. In those days the dollar went considerably further than it does now, and the cigar box cash register received only .90c as price for cleaning a man's suit or woman's dress.

The business has increased gradually, and continues to grow with the community of Campbell. Today it is equipped with all the modern machinery of an up to the minute dry cleaning plant. Equipment is replaced as soon as it is found to be functioning at less than top efficiency, said Benson, because it is found that old equipment wastes time (which is money) and cannot produce the quality of work so necessary today.

Servicing a garment today is a highly technical operation requiring knowledge and skill in all departments. There are many ways to reduce cost of servicing wearing apparel, Benson explained. Those practiced today by most cleaners are: installation of good and efficient machinery, proper arrangement of machinery to insure a smooth flow of work, and employment of skilled craftsmen.

Through these methods Benson's Campbell Cleaner's is able to turn out excellent cleaning and compete with the large chain establishments. The local plant is a member of the National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing which was established by and for the nation's cleaners in 1907.

CHAMBER DINNER HEARS TAX TALK BY ASSEMBLYMAN

The first annual steak dinner of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce drew 40 persons to Martin's restaurant Wednesday night to hear an address by Assemblyman Charles S. Gubser of the 29th district.

Chamber of Commerce president Eugene W. Barnes presided at the dinner gathering attended by long time members and new additions to the civic organization.

Gubser, who began his first term this year as a state assemblyman from this district, gave an informative and unusually interesting talk on "California Taxation," tracing development of the state's tax system from the original and moderate property tax assessed in 1878, to the present many tentacled and intricate taxation schedule. Since establishment of the first property tax rate in 1878, declared Gubser, California's population has increased four times that of 1878, while the taxes have been increased by 82 times that first tax rate.

Gubser was introduced by the chamber's secretary-manager, Forrest A. Reese. Both Reese and Barnes indicated that they hope to call more such social dinner meetings in the future.

Orchard Grange Has Potluck

Orchard City Grange opened its February 27 meeting with a potluck supper in the IOOF building banquet hall. Those on the committee were Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, Mrs. Sarah Blue, Mrs. Anne Gardner, Richard Morrill Jr. and Mrs. Ora Lear.

Dignitaries honored at the meeting were Frank Bishop, master of Mount Hamilton Grange, and Martin S. Walsh, past master of Mount Hamilton Grange, Grange Master George Shattuck presented Judge Walsh with a past master's pin for his two terms of service, with Mrs. Leone Keesling assisting in the ceremony.

Grange Master Shattuck has scheduled reports by the following committees for the next meeting: taxation, J. C. Gordon; gardening, Wesley Youngclaus; marketing, Mervyn Keesling, and poultry, Richard Morrill Jr.

Home Economics Club will meet at the home of Margaret Parr, 290 Harrison Avenue, on March 9. Pomona Home Economics Club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dwight Sheffer, Titus Avenue, Cupertino, on Sunday, March 11, at 4 p.m. A women's chorus will be formed, to be conducted by Virginia Rutherford of Campbell.

Mervyn Keesling announced his committees for the card party to be held Saturday, March 31, in the Campbell IOOF Hall.

J. C. Gordon reported that the sales slip contest has opened. Members were urged to save their sales slips.

A donation to the Red Cross fund drive was voted. The executive committee was assigned to prepare a community service project for the year. Members were reminded that April 1 is the deadline for filing California Physicians Service memberships.

Past Masters night will be held on April 10.

A plant exchange and auction were conducted in the banquet hall, after which members danced to recorded music of Mervyn Keesling.

Others In Campbell Urged To Attend Meetings Of New County-Wide Group

Campbell residents entered the current controversy on conduct of the county sheriff's office, as two local residents volunteered to assist in formation of a county-wide law enforcement committee. The two local men, Lt-Colonel S. S. Stocking, retired, of 570 N. San Tomas Road, and Albert J. Bacher, chiropractor, 108 Bland Avenue, attended a meeting February 27 in Mountain View at which the nucleus of the permanent committee was formed.

A second meeting is set for next Tuesday, March 6, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Frances Sohler, 309 Centre Street, Mountain View. Mrs. Sohler has been a leader in organizing support for Deputy Sheriff Sherman Millard who was suspended after he staged an unscheduled raid on various establishments in the county and collected 60 punch boards.

The meeting next Tuesday is open to the public and those persons in the county who wish to join the movement for better law enforcement in the county are invited to attend.

Millard is represented by Herman Mager, Mountain View city attorney, in his appeal of the suspension. The appeal will be heard by the County Civil Service Commission when it meets March 14. Petitions are being circulated in the county asking the commission to reinstate Millard without loss of pay.

Millard was suspended by County Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle because of "insubordination." Hornbuckle claimed that Millard's action had jumped the gun on a special investigation of gambling in the county which the sheriff said he has been conducting. Millard said he conducted the raid on his own initiative because he was fed up with listening to deputy sheriffs get the horse laugh from county residents for failure of the sheriff's office to enforce the law in this county.

Colonel Stocking told the Campbell Press that while the committee is only a tentative group at present, "It could be referred to as a step in the right direction in organizing a good government league.

"It is as desirable that it be as county-wide as possible," he added, stating that he hopes many more Campbell area residents will join the group. Not only should the organization be county-wide for purposes of representation, "but to express the desires of the people all over the county for good government.

"In this case it seems that the recommendations of a qualified body such as the County Grand Jury and other offices have been absolutely ignored," he stated, referring to recommendations of the last grand jury that the sheriff resign his office. "As citizens we should see that we get the right kind of good government, particularly in the matter of policing and stopping this business of sanctioning violations of our laws, specifically those controlling vice operations."

The retired Army officer said the committee invites all who are interested in the movement to participate in the law enforcement committee's activities.

Colonel Stocking said the committee intends to have adequate representation at the March 14 Civil Service Commission hearing on the Millard incident. He indicated that while the deputy sheriff's actions are important as a demonstration of the lack of law enforcement within the county, the committee's work must extend beyond an active interest in obtaining a just ruling for the officer. "Here is an opportunity to strike back and get what we are entitled to get in the way of policing and law enforcement."

At the meetings of the committee, all of which are open, he said, "we invite the attendance of officials who wish to present to us any information regarding the way in which

Rotary Service Outlined By Forrest A. Reese

Ways in which Rotarians may be of service to their community were discussed Monday noon at the Campbell Rotary Club luncheon by Past President Forrest Reese. Speaking on the subject "What Does Your Membership In Rotary Mean to the Community," Reese emphasized the basic tenet of Rotarianism, "Service Above Self."

Rotarians have the opportunity to influence others probably more than most groups, Reese said, and members of the organization are often required to assume posts of leadership in the community. "This is leadership with a principle behind it," the speaker continued. Opportunities for service are mostly of the silent type of service; service without ballyhoo.

The Rotarian's type of service often does not assume the role of service as a unit but rather the support of a recognized unit in the latter's particular type of service. Rotarians can put good business ethics into practice, he concluded.

Mario Saia gave a brief report on his plane trip to Mexico City where he heard an address by the Rotary International president. The Campbell man said traveling conditions were not of the best and he had difficulty obtaining hotel reservations in Mexico City.

Clifford Cassiday was chairman of the day.

Next week Rotarians will see a PG&E film showing steps in construction of a natural gas pipeline from Texas to Milpitas. Mario Saia will be the chairman.

HORNBUCKLE ISSUES STATEMENT ON SHERIFF OFFICE CONTROVERSY

"I wish to take issue with those who refer to my not always being in my office. Most law enforcement heads make it their business to get out and better familiarize themselves with tthe persons and territory they are charged with looking after. And I have no desire to achieve the reputation of being a rocking chair sheriff.

"There is always a percentage of dissatisfied personnel among those too new to fully understand law enforcement work; and some of those, employed for a long period of time, feel through that one qualification alone that they should be sheriff.

"In view of recent events reported in the newspapers, readers must have wondered if evrybody in the sheriff's department wanted to be generals. That is not the real picture, and I am proud to say most of the men in my department are a fine, conscientious, brave, clean and upstanding group of men, who with their families, are a real asset to Santa Clara County and its police force. They understand police work and, in performing their duties do an excellent job. It is veering far from the facts to cast suspicion upon the integrity of the sheriff's department as a whole because of a bad apple or two in the barrel.

Sherman Millard was not suspended from duty because of his enforcing the law, but because he was disobedient and disregarded orders. We are not running a gestapo. We are running a sheriff's department according to law. His action has cost the taxpayers of Santa Clara County many dollars by tipping our hand and scaring the game, sources of gambling equipment, away.

"I don't wish to pick on the boy for what he has done, but, in view of the way his actions have mushroomed into magnified misinterpretation of the true facts a few words of explanation seem justified. I had made it clear that my repeated warnings to him, with his continued ignoring of them, would lead to suspension charges being filed against him.

"Following this, with knowledge of the coordinated county-wide raid plans under way, he took matters into his own hands, costing the taxpayers months of costly investigation for only half a car full of punchboards.

"I believe in first things first, and shall continue to operate the sheriff's department along those lines. I believe that the protection of lives and property should at all times come first. I believe that our church groups and other civic minded organizations expect that policy. I am not personally in favor of gambling and will do my utmost with the men at my command to stamp out that and other forms of vice."

Music Pupils Show Ability In Piano Recital

Despite the rainy weather, some 200 parents and friends attended the piano rectial given by students of Virginia Rutherford Monday evening in the Country Woman's clubhouse.

Baskets of calla lilies and stock arranged by the Campbell Floral Shop were used in the decorations. Potted primrose plants adorned the mantel. Evidence of the detailed planning for the recital was apparent in the arrangement of the beautiful Steinway grand piano, the pretty frocks worn by the young girls and the recordings of the selections.

The pupils exhibited considerable ability in their performances,

San Tomas PTA Continues Series On Three R's

As a part of the series in the Three R's program being presented by the San Tomas Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Helen Peterson, special teacher for the Campbell Union School District, gave an interesting talk on "Language Arts" at the recent founders' day program at the San Tomas School.

Mrs. Gunnar Peterson, founders' day program chairman, gave a brief account of the history of the founding of the PTA. Mrs. Sherman Lombard, pre-primary teacher, led her pupils in recitation of two poems to demonstrate readiness with which children grasp oral use of the Language Arts.

COMPOSITION

Mrs. Esther Fore, third grade teacher, and Mrs. Steven Anderson presented a skit representing an actual parent-teacher conference, in which value of composition work was explained. "Composition work is used extensively in today's teaching because it helps a child to express himself both orally and in writing compositions. A child's vocabulary of spelling is also increased," Mrs. Fore explained.

Mr. Ray Wilson, sixth grade teacher, led a group of his students in a rendition of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address" as a part of the oral language program. "Oral language not only helps a child express himself orally but also helps him to be able to speak before a group with ease," Mr. Wilson stated.

An evening study group supplemented presentation of the language arts program. Children's compositions were projected on a screen to show different grade levels in spelling, penmanship, oral and written English, and discussion of the language arts was continued.

As a result of the January meeting's reading program the San Tomas library facilities will be improved and a project is underway to obtain books for a parents' library at San Tomas school.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Highlight of the founders' day program was presentation of life membership pin to Mrs. Ray Martin for her outstanding work and efforts in behalf of the school and the PTA. Chris Miller presented the pin.

Guests of honor were Mrs. Ruth Stuart and Mrs. John Perata, first vice-president of the San Tomas PTA unit, who led the group in the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Chester Brott was the hostess. Mrs. Gunnar Peterson, Mrs. B. W. Creighton and Mrs. Walter Thurber served refreshments. The PTA colors, yellow and blue, were used in the effective table decorations.

San Tomas PTA will have a potluck supper in the Campbell Elementary school cafeteria on Thursday, March 8, at 6 p. m. All parents of San Tomas school children and their families are invited to attend. A stimulating program has been planned for the parents. Movies will be shown for entertainment of the children.

Sport Shorts

By JERRY THOMAS

SWIM SESSION . . . Many of the allegedly minor sports in college and high school continuously suffer from seasonal competition, and do not receive the attention they so aptly deserve. Such is the case of swimming for example. With baseball and basketball vying for newspaper space, the unheralded natators literally take a never-ending dunking.

Yet if it's safe to state, we believe, that college swimming offers some of the best competitive action found in any campus sport. Due to the nature and limitations of the water boys, a swimming event seems as close as two sardines despite the fact that one merman may be ahead by several yards.

Granted that Stanford university has one of the better swimming teams in the nation and it looms as a heavy favorite in the NCAA championships to be held in Texas next month but San Jose State college is quietly grooming a pomising crew of lads that may put State back on top in local pool activities.

Dr. Charles Walker, Spartan mentor, has several freshman tankers who are performing capably this year against varsity competition.

Included in the promising pack is Don Cudney, local lad who is struggling for the breaststroke position on the SJS varsity. The lanky 6 ft.-3 in. Campbellite, along with his Frosh teammates, is allowed to participate in varsity meets upon common agreement of opposing coaches.

BASEBALL BANTER . . . One of the surest signs of approaching spring, despite climatic objections in form of rain, snow, and sleet, is the southerly migration of baseball players ready for spring training.

If that is the absolute truth, we can expect sunshine and roses by next week. Herb Gorman, local resident and star first baseman for the Hollywood Stars of the PCC, left town this week for San Fernando for some six weeks of pre-season practice.

Herb, who enjoyed a .300-plus batting average last year for the Stars, has been residing in Campbell for the past three or four summers. A native of Balboa, he has been geeting the jump on some of the less-conscious players, by working out with the Campbell high team.

Due to rain, Gorman had to confine much of his activity to running and exercises with a bit of fungo hitting on the side. Last season, he also worked out with the preps and helped the Buc coaching staff teach the squad some fundamental baseball.

CAGE CHATTER . . . The curerent Leonard's basketball team roster now participating in the annual Stockton Invitational Tournament reads like the Who's Who in the Campbell Cage leagues.

Seven out of the 10 players cavort in both the local A and B loops.

McCune's, unbeaten A team, has Bob Wuesthoff and Junior Morgan doing their bit. Morgan handles the pivot slot with Bob Bowles, rangy center for Tony's of the A league. Bowles, former San Jose State cager, is one of the leading scorers in local play

Two other Tony players are included in this array of hardwood talent. Ray Hetherington and Ray Silva, forwards, carry much of the scoring punch for the Leonard quint. One of the key players from the basket-getting angle is Bob Santos, leading point-getter for Maderis, undefeated club in the B league.

The Stockton tourney enters the semi-finals this week-end. The affair, held on two-loss-and-out basis, finds the local team meeting the Stockton Skippers tomorrow. Thus far, Leonard's has lost one and won two with the lone defeat being a two-point heartbreaker that saw a last period rally fall short with the final whistle.

ALL'S WELL . . . Bert Robison, amiable Campbell high cage coach, returned to school Wednesday following a three-week sick leave. He has recuperated from a spinal operation performed earlier last month. The former San Jose State college hardwood star will take charge of the varsity five tonight when it meets Santa Clara.

Trackmen Prep for Inter-Class Meet

Although rain has curtailed extensive training periods the Campbell track and field team is molding itself into fair condition. Unlike other sports, Coach Junior Morgan can ready his cinder charges in the school gym with excessive running and leg exercises.

The candidates have found an extra initiative these days with the first annual Inter-Class Track meet scheduled for March 16.

Morgan announced yesterday that he will divide the squad evenly as possible. The seniors and freshmen will join to form one team and the juniors and sophomores will follow suit for the other team.

Several Buc cindermen have shown satisfactorily in preseason workouts. Johnny Hoover has thrown the discus over a 100 feet without any bother or strain. Morgan expects him to improve and strengthen the team in that event.

Howard Kaeding, veteran star hurdler, has looked good in the few times he has skimmed the sticks. Bill Pingree, a transfer from Arizona, has been working smoothly over the low hurdles. The slim junior may prove an unexpected point-getter in that department.

Local Bowler Sets Record in San Jose

Carl Field, local resident and one of the best bowlers in the area, caused much commotion in San Jose the past week by teaming up with Art Cowdery, San Jose, to cop the doubles championship of the 1951 Men's City Bowling tournament.

The duo rolled an all-time city record total of 1408 in one of the earlier squads two weeks ago and never saw their mark threatened during the remaining time of the tourney. The total included a handicap of 142 pins.

The Campbell kegler also finished in the money in the All-Events bracket, winding up with total of 1846 (handicap included) for 16th place.

Rain Go Away! Ball Club Wants to Play

Baseball Coach George Miskulin is the perfect picture of a perplexed, frustrated man. His Campbell high diamondmen are slated to play their season opener March 13 against Palo Alto high and have yet to engage in any formal practice session.

The inclement weather the past week has caused Miskulin to put his some 60 hopefuls through preliminary workouts in the school gym.

"But we are still looking forward to our initial outdoor practice," the glum mentor said yesterday as he watched the diamond sink another inch under a layer of water.

He said that he would carry 20 men on the varsity squad with the remaining personnel forming the junior varsity team.

Field, in his record-smashing effort, rolling a scratch series of 668, putting together games of 245, 223 and 200. With a handicap of 52 pins, his overall series was a robust 720.

Last year's doubles champs won with 1316, highest known score up to that time.

Maderis, Campbell Hdwe. Meet Tues.

The stage is set for the crucial B league game Tuesday night as Maderis and Campbell Hardware each captured their fourth straight second-half wins earlier this week.

Maderis, winners of the opening half of play, will be out for a clean sweep when it meets the challenge of the hardwaremen in the third game of the weekly triple header at the high school gym.

The way things shaped up both clubs have played blueprint ball in each half. Maderis beat the Campbell five in a play-off tilt to determine first-half laurels.

The pots-and-pans quint had to come from behind to nip a formidable Longs' Sporting Goods club, 38 to 34. The winners maintained a two-point margin at halftime but fell before a 15-point barrage in the third period to trail 28-26. But the fourth quarter found Hal Layman and Ron Cantoni netting three buckets each to pace a late Campbell rally.

In all, the victors hit for 12 points in the period while holding Longs' to six markers.

Laymen was high scorer for the game with 10 points. Gene Acronico of Longs' tallied nine points for second-place honors.

Maderis has Joe Novakovich to thank for its close 43 to 36 win over Santa Clara Lumber.

The flashy center accounted for 26 points, 13 in each half, to practically cinch the game single-handedly.

The Lumber crew forged into the lead by one point as the fourth quarter began, 30-29, but Novakovich took complete offensive charge at that point to assure Maderis their unbeaten slate.

He hit for five field goals in the period to lead a 14-point splurge. In all he netted 12 baskets and two charity tosses.

Ray Vierra kept the S.C. five in contention for 16 minutes by tallying 15 points to cop runner-up scoring honors.

It was the battle of the winless, Sisemore's and California Supply, that furnished most of the evening's thrills.

Cal. Supply staved off a dying-mniute rally to eke out a 36 to 35 over the luckless Sisemore five.

Trailing 27-22 as the final stanza began, the Sisemore quint got hot and closed with a flurry of baskets only to fall short by one as the buzzer sounded to end the game.

The losers completely dominated the last quarter as Otto Mecklar potted three quick field goals to narrow the gap but two buckets by Bob Santos provided the safety edge for the Supplymen.

Halftime score found the winners enjoying a 21-16 lead. Santos paced both clubs in scoring by tllying 16 points. Mecklar followed with 12 points.

Alcohol Dangers To Be Discussed At SDA Church

O. L. Brauer, Ph.D., head of the chemistry and physics department of San Jose State College, is to be the guest speaker on March 2, at 7:30 p.m. at a youth's meeting in the Seventh-day Adventist church on the corner of Fourth Street and Rincon Avenue in Campbell.

Dr. Brauer will speak on the dangers of alcohol to the health. In an interview Dr. Brauer said "I feel that the youth especially need to know the physical results that come from the use of alcohol so they will not be deceived into believing so much that is said regarding the consumption of alcohol as one of the thrills of life."

Those who have heard Brauer's lecture say that it is very impressive, informative and not easily forgotten. While the lecture is especially for young people, it is of interest to all and the public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Boy Scout Activities

Cub Scout Pack 9, sponsored by the Congregational Church of Campbell, came off with top honors in the juvenile section of the Old Settlers Day parade on February 22.

Three boys typifying the "Spirit of '76," were the advance guard for the entry, followed by George Washington in his horse-drawn carriage. Behind the carriage were Minute Men, complete with muskets and cannon. The wounded brought up the rear.

Cub Pack 9 had its monthly pack meeting last Friday night. Later on in the evening was an amateur show in which many budding musicians displayed their talents.

Colonel Stocking emphasized that those who join the committee must be prepared to work for one aim—adequate law enforcement in the county. We want nobody with political aspirations, he commented. As citizens we are as tired as anybody else with the lack of attention of law enforcement agencies."

Asked about a statement of the sheriff that the unlawfulness extent in Santa Clara County is no worse than that in any other California county, Stocking quietly replied. "What sort of defense is that Of course other counties are bad, but must this county be bad, too?"

CIVIL DEFENSE CAPTAINS NAMED; LARGER FIRST AID TURNOUT TERMED VITAL TO SURVIVAL

Attorney Richard W. Morton, Campbell area civil defense zone commander, today announced appointment of division captains for this district. Dr. Paul Werthman, Campbell physician, will serve as medical captain. Jack Scott, chief of the Campbell Volunteer Fire Department, has been named fire captain, and the civil defense police captain will be John W. Wimbley.

The latter, a resident of 340 W. Campbell Avenue, was appointed on recommendation of the county sheriff's office which has assumed selection of civil defense police captains in other zones, as well. Wimbley's police experience consists of membership in the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Posse and previously in the San Mateo County Sheriff's Posse. He has lived in Campbell for two years, in the county for four years.

Morton said his zone warden, Laurance J. Hill, is recruiting wardens for this area which has been divided, tentatively, into six districts. Hill will appoint an assistant zone warden, and the six district wardens and their assistants, after which the district wardens will select their own block wardens. "In this way", commented Morton, "we will have a corps of wardens down to the block level." He added that while some lack of coordination is to be expected in the sparsely populated rural areas, the entire organization is expected to provide a unified defense group.

CD QUESTIONNAIRE

"On completion of the warden enrollment," said Morton, "the block wardens will circulate questionnaires and conduct a civil defense census, contacting every household in each district. The information will be kept on double file, one in the county civil defense headquarters and the other in the Campbell headquarters. This information is necessary for proper defense and will include information on equipment available at each home, supplies, training and facilities. This will be a large job, but it must be done."

Morton scored lack of enrollment in first aid courses here. "In the first class we started," he commented, "there were 170 enrollees. We have in the zone area about 3500 to 4000 residents. Both the state and national governments and all experts in the field insist that there must be at least one first aid trained individual in every home. The advisory committee on atomic energy insists upon this.

"One hundred and seventy persons is a mere drop in the bucket. There must be more trained first aiders in the community. We have 20 instructors now ready and willing to teach first aid. Each can handle 40 people to a class. That makes 800 persons undergoing training at one time. They can teach two classes each, per week, or a total of 1600 persons. We have not had the necessary turnout. It is for the individual's own protection that they learn first aid in the interest of self preservation.

"It has been estimated by atomic bomb authorities that if a community of say 250,000 people was hit by an atomic bomb only 40,000 would be completely fit and able to care for the remaining 210,000."

Another class will start next Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the high school. All interested persons are urged to get in touch with the high school, Campbell 3441, for enrollment details.

New First Aid Classes To Begin Next Mon., Tues.

Two new first aid classes will be offered by the Campbell chapter of the American Red Cross next week in cooperation with the civil defense training program.

Robert McCloskey, chairman of the Red Cross training program here, said courses in both standard and advanced first aid will begin at the Campbell Union High School.

The advanced class will convene at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, March 5, in room 20 of the high school.

Standard first aid class will begin on Tuesday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m. in room 20 of the high school.

Those interested in enrolling in either of the classes should phone Mr. McCloskey, Campbell 4693, for reservations.

Campbell civil defense zone commander Richard W. Morton has issued an appeal to all residents to avail themselves of the first aid training being offered in this community.
